SHERIFFS SEIZE KLAN PALACE

Imperial Emperor Simmons Ousted in Row Over Woman's Branch

Atlanta, Ga., April 4 (By the Associated Press).—Sheriff J. I. Lowry of Fulton County, with a force of deputies early today took charge of the Imperial Palace, headquarters of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, under an order signed by Judge R. D. Thomas, dispossessing W. J. Simmons, Imperial emperor, who took charge of the headquarters and the Klan yesterday under a temporary injunction secured by him against Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans. The order signed about 2:30 o'clock this morning by Judge Thomas, directed Emperor Simmons and the other plaintiffs in the action to appear for a hearing before him to show cause why the temporary injunction against Imperial Wizard Evans and the other officials of the Klan should not be dismissed. The order was issued by Judge Thomas after Paul Richards and other attorneys representing Evans presented arguments denying the injunction on Page 2, Column 5.

BLONDE IS GIRL ADMITS NAMING IN SLAYING SWIMMING MINISTERS

Sought as Bandit's Pal in the Killing of News Bureau Paymaster

Pauline Morton, also known as "French Pauline," a pretty blonde Parisian of twenty-two, a former artists' model, is considered by the Boston police as the key to the solution of the murder of Paymaster George A. Willis of the Boston News Bureau, December 15, 1922.

Developments since the shooting of Webster T. Grant, bandit and gunman, by members of the State constabulary in Westboro last Saturday, caused Pauline suddenly to quit her lodgings in Arena Chambers, No. 326 Northampton street, and to leave for parts unknown.

Following her change of residence came announcement today that Judge Burke of the Municipal Court had called an inquest for tomorrow to probe the murder of Paymaster Willis further and determine if possible whether, as the police claim, Grant was Willis' slayer.

Pauline Morton is known to have been interviewed by the Boston police relative to her alleged former friendship with Grant the bandit. She was shadowed for months, but to date has not given the authorities any assistance, they said today.

ADMIRAL AT CITY HALL. The French model indignantly denied she had ever been a sweetheart of Grant or that he or any of his pals had ever conferred in her about the murder of Paymaster Willis. Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

Pleads Guilty in Court to Working Hard-Luck Story; Man Is Held With Her

"Concentrating on soft-hearted members of the clergy, pretty Ida M. Pike reached a rich harvest from glibbie ministers until complaints to the Newton police caused her arrest.

Miss Pike told her story today in Newton Court, explaining that she turned over hundreds of dollars to Cornelius E. Donovan, who lives with her at No. 147 Tremont street. He was arrested with her.

Miss Pike posed as a worthy young woman temporarily out of funds. Usually it was room rent she wanted.

She told of the embarrassment she felt at writing home for money, inasmuch as she came from a well-known Southern family, and explained that she would rather die than seek charity.

So she took to trade, selling possibilities. Her best seller was the "hot-spot" upon which writing appeared and was on the way to making a fortune when several ministers met at a conference and told of having "helped the young lady along."

The "pledged guilty today," said Donovan. Their careers were continued on Page 2, Column 1.

ASTROLOGY LEADS TO ROMANCE

Hub Woman Injured in Wreck

Dr. George W. Smallwood of Somerville and Back Bay, physician-astrologer, and Miss Caroline Bain of Brookline, cousin of Beverly Bain, the moving picture actress, will be married Friday, April 13, as a result of an astrological romance.

Smallwood says that the birth of one of the two nuptials indicated marriage, brought about through the astrologer.

Smallwood was born in Florida the past nine months with her husband, M. J. Lydon, owner of the Hamilton Theatre, Dorchester. Her husband is with her.

The family lives at No. 23 Mather street, Dorchester.

West Palm Beach, Fla., April 4.—The second section of the Key West express on the Florida East Coast Railway, carrying Pullman cars from Florida to New York, ran through a switch near Kaley City, seven miles north of here. Passengers were badly shaken up as five cars left the rails, but no one was seriously injured.

Mrs. M. J. Lydon of Boston suffered an injury to her wrist.

Republicans Back Them Against Wall Near Home of Governor-General Healy

By DANIEL O'CONNELL, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Dublin, April 4.—Two young Irishmen, identified as Peadar Breslin and Joseph Kernan, were executed by the Republicans early today near the home of Governor-General Timothy Healy of the Free State.

They were placed against a stone wall and their bodies riddled with bullets. The bodies were left lying where they fell.

Nicholas Corcoran, a Republican attached to the force at Ballinacorney, was shot to death by Free State troops when he refused to remove obstructions from railway tracks.

After being captured Corcoran was told to carry away some stones and timbers that had been placed upon the rails. He refused to do so and a volley was fired into his body.

New York, April 4 (By Commodore News Service).—To take advantage of the increased Spring and Summer travel, first-class passenger rates on all lines to Europe were advanced 10 per cent today. The increase will be effective until July 31, when Winter rates again will prevail. But persons going to Europe who do not return by July 31 will find the return rates are 10 per cent higher than now. The increased outbound rate being effective until November 1.

"RADIO MIND" AM $10,000,000 FIRECRACKER BEAT WALL ST.

PIGGLY WIGGLY MAN TELLS OF BATTLE WITH 'SHORTS'

The Piggly Wiggly man begins today his own story of success.

He is Clarence Saunders of Memphis, Tenn., president of the Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc.

He is the man who threw a $10,000,000 firecracker into Wall Street and caught his speculative enemies in a stock market corner.

Result—Explosion, "shorts" with fingers burned, general financial confusion and a knockout on a staggering that the Stock Exchange ruled Piggly Wiggly off the board as first protective measure.

"Whenever I want anything I get it."

That's Saunders' working rule. He is clever, and he admits it. He does not say that enormous financial success came to him merely because he starts work killing tobacco worms at 25 cents a day; he says he saved because he was honest and ambitious.

"I have tamed the average mind," he says, "and I have caught the wave length of the average man."

WALL STREET FLARE-UP.

Mr. Saunders, who did not seek publicity, but consented to tell something of his life, begins with the Wall Street flare-up that put him on the front pages of the newspapers.

When the Manhattan Piggly Wiggly Company, an organization which leased the Piggly Wiggly method of operation, "blew up" last June, the bear crowd in Wall Street conceived the idea of selling short the legitimate Piggly Wiggly stock, he said.

"When the first campaign against the stock by the Wall Street interests developed," he went on, "I assumed that it was actuated by a body of gamblers who would shortly realize the futility of their institution."

HAD MILLION DOLLARS.

"I had a million dollars to protect the market."

"I had failed to take into account the fact, it seems, that a good part of the opposition against my salvation of the stock was conceived by interests which represented organized

Society Interested in Betrothal of Louisa Hoar, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

COMES the news that "peppy" Louisa Hoar is now the fiancée of Christopher La Farge, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Grant La Farge of New York. Which is interesting not only to society of New York, Boston and Washington, but especially to that interesting band—the Vincent Club.

For the youngest daughter of Mrs. Frederick Gillett (Christine Hoar) has enlisted a number of the clever "shows" given by the Vincent Club in past years. She's probably one of the nimblest dancers in society, besides being exceptionally vivacious and entertaining. She and sister Frances—she's Mrs. Regy Foster of Rovers street—are noted for their wit and charm.

Speaker of the House and Mrs. Gillett announced the betrothal in Washington the other day, when Louisa Hoar spends much of her time. But she pays frequent visits to Boston, where she made the all-important debut to a number of years ago, holding membership in the Sewing Circle as well as the Vincent and Chilton clubs.

Last Spring Miss Hoar came on to Boston to take part in the Vincent show, "Now and Then" when she and her sister rendered up against $2500. "Now and Then" numbers, which they called the "Summe Twine" dance. Shortly before she and Mrs. Foster added to the success of "Why Not?"—Adelaide Whitman's musical opera given for the Infants' Hospital, which their misty Moonlight dance evoked no little applause.

As for Louisa Hoar's future life, however—she's a Harvard man of the 20 class, a grandson of the distinguished artist, John La Farge and a great-grandson of the late Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry. Young La Farge's father is a member of the Somerset Club of Boston. His mother was formerly Miss Florence Hayward Lockwood.

THEIR REGY BOARDMAN'S. Mrs. Amory and Mrs. Boardman are sisters—and their young families have concluded their long Winter sojourn at Palm Beach and are, I believe, returning to Boston on board their private car.

Others desiring the "American Riviera" this week are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard D. Ahl who have closed their villa there known as the "Nautilus." They will open their summer place at Hamilton.

ON Monday and Tuesday of next week, the Harvard Dramatic Club is putting on Sacha Guitry's "Beranger" and Leonid Andreyev's "The Life of a Boy at Bratsk Hall."

These performances are for the benefit of the American Field Service Fellowship for American students in France, and a large number of Boston and Cambridge society folk are sponsoring them.

TANNHAUSER WELL SUNG BY GERMANS

By ZOE FABER.

The steady, artistic hand of Ernest Knoch at the helm last night proved to be a big factor in the success of the performance of Wagner's "Tannhauser" by the German Opera Company at the Boston Opera House.

The results that Mr. Knoch obtained by sheer force of dominating personality from an orchestra that at best cannot be considered of more than mediocre material were amazingly splendid. It is much credit to the conductor and pressure interesting nights when he will conduct again.

KNOW IN TITLE ROLE.

Tannhauser was sung by Heinrich Knoch. The voice is a very good one and when it is not being forced has excellent quality. It is unfortunate that Mr. Knoch's intonation and feeling for dramatic emphasis effect his voice in a noticeable tendency to hardness. His portrayal of the title role was exceedingly vivid.

Elizabeth revealed what seems to be the loveliest soprano that the company has in the person of Maria Behnemann. She is delightful to the eye as well as the ear. Here is a dignity that adds much to her contribution of the artistic whole. The voice is a singularly beautiful one.

VOICE OF FINE QUALITY.

Wolfram was sung by Benno Ziegler, whose voice grows on one in strength as the opera progresses. The volume is not so great on others but the quality is finer and there is also an artistry that bespeaks the real musician.

Alexander Kipke was the Her-nann and again his voice was a real delight.

Venus was sung by Marie Lorentz, Heilichner, whose voice is of the hard, brilliant variety.

This afternoon "Das Rheingold," under the direction of Meisels and tonight "Lohengrin" under Mr. Knoch.

FEAR DEATH IF IRISH LEADER IS DEPORTED BY UNITED STATES

FRIENDS TO PUT UP FIGHT

Suffering From Bayonet Wound He Under Guard at Cleveland

Cleveland, April 4.—Believing that deportation might result in his execution for treason for a Free State quarrel, friends of Martin Lavan, said to be a leader of the Irish Republican army, were preparing today to contest proceedings to deport him.

Lavan is under guard. He landed in this country four months ago, suffering with a bayonet wound to have been sustained while acting as district commander of the Irish Republican army in County Mayo, Ireland. After a month's stay in New York he was brought to Cleveland. His wound became so serious that an operation was decided upon last Friday.

Investigation by Free State sympathizers via a visit by Mrs. Terence MacSwiney, widow of the late Lord Mayor of Cork, to the hospital is said to have led to Lavan's discovery.

GIRL SCOUT CAPTAIN TO WED WALTHAM MAN

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Mary Hamilton Ramsey, No. 73 Spruce street, Watertown, to John A. Murphy, No. 121 Charles street, Waltham. Miss Ramsey, a business woman, is captain of Watertown No. 1 Girl Scouts of America. Her fiancé was through the scouts in her troop that it first became known she was engaged. Mr. Murphy is assistant sales manager of a large wholesale paint concern.

GIRL'S CORSET STEEL DEFLECTS BULLET

New York, April 4.—High hopes were entertained at Bellevue Hospital today that Miss Wilhelmina Greenstein, shot in the breast by Henry Borak, the man she spurned, would recover. The fact that a corset steel deflected the bullet probably will save the life of the girl. Borak shot her as they stood talking in West Fifty-seventh street, just off Fifth avenue, and diagonally across from the Cornelia Vanderbilt mansion. Then he tried to fire a bullet into his own head, but his revolver jammed, and he was arrested.

After Every Meal

Most of us eat too hastily and do not chew our food enough. If people realized how much more good their food would do them if properly masticated, and followed up with a bit of WRIGLEY'S to assist the digestive process, we'd have far better health. Keep teeth clean, breath sweet, appetite keen and digestion good with WRIGLEY'S.

ACTRESS WON FIRST CHANCE AS BRINKLEY GIRL

When you see Helen Hayes, star of "To the Ladies," at the Wilbur, you will be interested to know that it was as a Nell Brinkley girl that she gained her first chance. It was in a dancing school entertainment in Washington that she made up to resemble one of the Boston American's famous artist's creations and attracted the enthusiastic eyes of Lew Fields, who changed to attend the performance. That was in 1918 and she was seven.

Little Miss Hayes—she is Helen Hayes Brown then—was put on the professional stage by Mr. Fields and was with him four years in "such shows as 'Old Dutch' and 'About Town.'" Olen Macdonough, Fields' "brother," wrote in special "bits" for her, and a couple of shows she had the diminutive Will Archel as an opposite.

She retired to gain an education—in a convent—and shortly after resuming stage work her decisive opportunity came. Patricia Collings and "Polyanna" were undoubtedly hits and a western company was decided upon by George C. Tyler, the producer. There was no one in definite sight to head the western company and a call was sent out for volunteers to compete for the principal part. Miss Hayes won.

William Gillette "borrowed" her for "Dear Brutus." Booth Tarkenton fitted her skillfully as the factitious flapper in "Clarence." Mr. Tyler again starred her in "Bab" (in which she played here for three months three years ago, and that brought her to her present undertaking). Thus, several men of theatrical importance helped her to eminence but it was the fact that Lew Fields was fond of children and dropped in, for that reason, to see a kid's show that gave her a real start and a real incentive.

London, British officials today denied "secret" legislation had been enacted in India to prevent Americans from obtaining concessions for exploitation of oil lands.

Bright Spots in Shadowland

ACTUAL photographs of Monte Carlo, its Casino and its Terrace, with members of the cast in scenes, are among the features of "Evenings of Women," Comedian Productions' presentation at the Alhambra theatre. Headed by Director Alan Croeland and his featured players, Lionel Barrymore and Helen Hayes, the company journeyed to Europe last summer to secure the scenes. It is the first time in more than seven years that the famous resort has been photographed direct into a story. Danza himself made the arrangements.

WHILE making stunts for "The Phantom Face," Strongheart's next release, which is being filmed by Director Lucke, Charles Trumbull at Banff, Canada, Charles B. Dwyer, the cameraman, fell through the ice into the Bow River. It was 45 below zero, and he was in the water for some time before he was rescued. He is now in the hospital, but is expected to make a full recovery.

PLAVER IS DEAD. PUBLICITY has killed the famous Plaver, head of the order, as "King." The allegation is made that the association, which filed articles of incorporation in 1918, as a religious and fraternal association, has usurped its privileges as an organization of this character by means of fraud.

The attorney-general alleges the colony "is not and never has been a corporation for religious and fraternal purposes, but an organization for the purpose of defrauding the government." The attorney-general has filed a bill to dissolve the corporation.

Frederick Ward, renowned stage actor, was a visitor at Frank Borah's studio the other day and saw his replica of Gramercy Park, New York City, used in "Twilight." Mr. Ward is much interested in pictures, but remains close to his first and only love, the legitimate stage.

Gene Sarazen, the golf champion, has begun the first of a series of seven one-reel pictures. They will be known as "Golf Series," with Gene Sarazen.

POLICE START ROUND-UP OF CRIMINALS

Plans of the Boston police to round up every known criminal in the city are announced.

Commissioner Wilson does not intend that any crooks driven out of other cities shall take up their residence here.

Every known criminal who attempts to come to Boston will be arrested as a suspicious person. If the authorities have no specific charge on which to hold him he will be shipped out of the city.

In furtherance of this plan police will watch every incoming train in addition to visiting every known hangout of crooks in the city. The criminals of crime reported in other large cities and the consequent exit of crooks, following increased police activity, have led many criminals to seek pasture new in Boston and other large cities. It is this danger against which the present orders are especially directed.

"The Woman With Four Faces," now under way at the Lasky studio. The story was adapted by George Hopkins from a play by Hays Vicer. Julia Crawford Jones is production editor.

Wesley Barry, the freckle-faced screen star, has completed his twelve weeks personal appearance tour in connection with "Glorious of the Street." His next picture will be "The Printer's Devil," an original story written by Julian Josephson.

Gene Sarazen, the golf champion, has begun the first of a series of seven one-reel pictures. They will be known as "Golf Series," with Gene Sarazen.

STATE GOES AFTER HOUSE OF DAVID

Lansing, Mich., April 4.—Formal charges that the Israelite House of David colony at Benton Harbor is based upon "a foundation of deceit, immorality and fraud" were filed today by Andrew B. Dougherty, Attorney-General for Michigan.

The charges were filed in support of the proceedings to compel the lead one of the cult to show why the organization should not be disbanded. Today's charges allege the colony has set itself up as a "Kingdom" with Benjamin Purnell, head of the order, as "King." The allegation also is made that the association, which filed articles of incorporation in 1918, as a religious and fraternal association, has usurped its privileges as an organization of this character by means of fraud.

The attorney-general alleges the colony "is not and never has been a corporation for religious and fraternal purposes, but an organization for the purpose of defrauding the government." The attorney-general has filed a bill to dissolve the corporation.

AUTOS INJURE THREE; CHILD'S SKULL BROKEN

Struck and knocked down by an automobile at School and Washington streets, William Weinstein, thirty-four years old, of No. 8 Ottawa street, Roxbury, sustained a fracture of the skull. His condition was reported as critical and he was kept at the hospital for treatment.

Weinstein later felt severe pains in his head and went to the City Hospital for examination. Three physicians found he had suffered concussion of the brain and a possible fracture of the skull. His condition was reported as critical and he was kept at the hospital for treatment.

Struck by an automobile operated by Roy Henderson on Amory street, Jamaica Plain, he was removed to the City Hospital. The child is the son of Mrs. Katherine Solomon of No. 249 Amory street, Jamaica Plain.

When the taxi in which he was riding collided with another automobile at Cabot and Sterling streets, Roxbury, Cornelius McKean, twenty-five years old, of No. 3 Marble street, Roxbury, was badly cut about the hands and face by glass from the windshield of the machine. The taxi was operated by Charles Johnson. McKean was removed to the City Hospital.
